Sexton Administers an Unmerciful Scor ing to Saunderson London, April 18th.—In the House of cue. Assistance has gone from Ajaccio and Marseilles. whether the Government would consent to rescind the suspension of Healy. W. H. Smith, First Lord of the Treasury, replied for the Government, that the duty they had to discharge on Friday night was most disagreeable. The Government was sorry they were forced to ask Healy to be named for transgression of the orders of the House. It would be utterly out of the question, however, when no apology had been given for this breach of the decencies of debate, to rescind the suspension. The motion to that effect could not be enter-tained without the general concurrence of Sexton inquired if it would be com-

he was authorized to say that if Major Saunderson withdrew the offensive charges to which Healy's language was in reply, Healy would withdraw the expression deemed by the House offensive.

Jacob Bright (Liberal, and brother John Bright) asked why it was that when two members of the House committed th ame offense, one was suspended while the ther was not. The Speaker said that under ordinary ircumstances he would decline to answer hat question, or any question implying that his action was not impartial, but un der the present circumstances he would a breach of the rules had been committed that of Sexton) an apology followed the vithdrawal of the expression causing the Sexton moved that Healy be heard at the bar of the House, which the Speaker declared could not be done. Sexton then asked Major Saunderson to withdraw his asertions regarding Healy which exasperated him into making the response for which he was suspended. Saunderson remaining quiet, Gladstone put to him the direct question whether he was prepared to render the House any assistance by the withdrawal of his offensive exressions. [Conservative cries "No, no

Saunderson said he never alluded the Healy, directly or indirectly, because h felt, as regards Healy, that he was unabl to substantiate the charges so as to bring cor viction to the mind of the members of th House. [Cries of "Hear! hear!"] The matter was then dropped.

Subsequently Sexton, resuming the de-bate on the Irish Crimes Act amendment said that Saunderson charged his with direct complicity in crime. If the ac-cusation were well founded, why did the Irish Viceroy approve of his present a pointment as High Sheriff of Dubli His name, as a member of the League, l been linked with that of Sheridan, the Ir vincible, but Sheridan was never a men ber of the Executive Council of the Land League. PARNELL DECLARES IT A FORGERY. London, April 18th.-In an interview day Parnell pointed out that, although first sight some letters in the Times' facmile appeared to resemble his autograph close comparison shows a decidedly king difference in many important pints. The forgery slopes upward, and he genuine handwriting downward. Parll always places a full-point after the tial "S." in his name, which the forgery aits. The "r" in "Parnell" and "C" in has." are quite different from anything has written. The letters "Ch" in "Chas." are abnormally long, and the "S" and "P" are the only letters in any way resembling his genuine autograph. The ' was evidently taken off the paper, whereas in the genuine signature it is always written without a break. The forgery, Parnell says, is the work of a person acomed to penmanship and to writing a owing hand, whereas his own writing is

The National Opera Company Scores Success at the Bay. San Francisco, April 18th .- The Naonal Opera Company arrived this afternoon. Its arrival was quite an event, the organization being the largest and most portant in its character that ever visited the Pacific coast. The company made its irst appearance before a San Francisco audience at the Grand Opera House toight. The audience was one of the largest and most fashionable that ever attended a grand opera representation here. "Faust" vas the opera. THE RAILROAD LAW. The Interstate Commission Declines to Act Upon Certain Petitions.

WASHINGTON, April 18th.-The following a synopsis embodying the material points in by far the most important action yet taken by the Interstate Commerce Commision. The decision is rendered in the cas of two petitions-that of the Order of Railway Conductors and of the Traders' and Travelers' Union, which are of a kind that render the decision especially interesting on account of their being representatives of a very large number of applications made to the Commission. The latter petition deals with the manner in which the former system of allowing additional free baggage has been interfered with by the interstate bill. The petition of the railway con-ductors asks for information as to the proper interpretation of the law as applying to the issuing of passes to railway em ployes and their families—to those who make railway service their business— while temporary out of employment and in search of situations; and if transportation at reduced rates are provided for representatives of any one association, must the same be extended to all others which They would not, however, allow themselves to be carried away by events, but would are composed exclusively of railway em-

In reply the Commission says: "A care ful reading of the 'Act to regulate commerce,' under which the Commission is organized, will show the petitioners and others who have made similar applications that no jurisdiction has been given us to answer questions like these under consideration. ed Reunion of California Pioneer on the Potomac. Washington, April 18th.—Hallett Kil ourn, proprietor of the Critic, has ad-ressed a circular letter to the California oneers now residing in Washington, sug gesting a reunion some time in the month of May, which shall include a shad-bake on the Potomac and an interchange of recollections and reminiscences. The sug gestion has been most favorably received and the occasion will certainly be notably interesting. There are probably now in this city twenty-five or thirty adventur ous men who, in 1849-50, in the days of their youth, took the then long and hazardous trip to the far off Pacific coast in search of fame and fortune, or both. The larger proportion of these are still in vigorous health of mind and body. Many of them have been and are prominent in business Conditions on which Catholics May Remain Knights of Labor. NEW YORK, April 18th .- The Catholic News, of this city, to-day received the fol-lowing cable dispatch from Rome: "The Pope has decided the question of the Knights of Labor in favor of that organiza tion. This decision will stand so long as the present method is pursued in further ing their aims. The document of Cardinal Gibbons has been indorsed. The Pope further decides that in Canada, where a mandament had been issued against the Knights of Labor, members of the order will receive absolution on promise of obedience to the future decision of the Holy See. Trouble in the Northwest. MILWAUKEE, April 18th .- A special t the Evening Wisconsin says: Company E. Eleventh Infantry, stationed at Fort Tully, received orders yesterday to proceed at once to the Winnebago and Crow reserva-tion and drive the settlers from those lands. The company, under command of Captain Myers, left yesterday evening, and camped at Canning last night. The orders are re-ported to be strict, calling for the destrucion of property if necessary. The great est excitement exists, and it would a surprising to see a miniature Riel rebellio inaugurate on these lands. PLOTTING AGAINST THE SCHOOL-BOOK

It would appear, however, to be a small matter whether the work is done provided a sufficient number of readers and spellers to meet the demand. But we shall not assume that these gentlemen are planning to defeat the law, or deliberately setting about to violate their official oaths. It will be time enough to arraign them when it shall appear that they fail to anticipate the demand for books. Superintendent Anderson, in discussing the subject, takes occasion to make an as sault upon the whole scheme of State publication of text-books. He is certainly entitled to the credit of frankness in avowing his enmity to the system, but it is inexplicable how he can justify himself in denouncing that upon which the people, in their sovereign capacity, have rendered the verdict of a practically unanimous approval. Mr. Anderson says:

proval. Mr. Anderson says:

I have ever been opposed to the whole scheme. There is no economy in it. The plant for the publication of these books cost a very large amount of money, and every one knows that the management of it entails the very heaviest outlay for salaried sinecures, and the payment of $\frac{1}{2}$ to every man employed there for eight hours spent in doing as little work as possible. And then the books are poorly gotten up. They are bound so miserably that the covers will soon be lost, even with ordinary handling. But, cheap as the books appear in quality and workmanship, I cannot help but doubt whether the prices charged for them anywhere near cover the cost of their publication.

These are the dogmatic assertions of a disgruntled man, the motive for whose dissatisfaction excites suspicion. If Superintendent Anderson had informed himself, as he might have done with great ease, he never would have committed himself to the flat misstatements we have quoted. The facts have been repeatedly stated and published. They have formed the subject for several official expositions. They were closely examined by the late Chief Executive officer of the State and by the Legislature, and in both instances the "economy" of the scheme was clearly demonstrated. It is a fact which neither Superintendent Anderson nor any other avowed or secret enemy of the system can gainsay, that the new school-books are furnished to the people at very much less than half the cost of those they were formerly compelled to purchase of private book concerns. This cost to the people is ascertained after deducting the entire first follow the example of California. There set forth the figures showing these facts that we cannot assume the people to be in that state of ignorance to which Mr. Anderson confesses on his own behalf, or the

The people, with practical unanimity, adopted it, and ousted the book syndicates, bag and baggage, from the politics of the State. It did not, however, shake off their hold upon some educational departments. Unfortunately most teachers resisted the amendment, and have resisted the laws made in consonance with it; only a small minority were brave enough to withstand the powerful influences brought to bear upon them. Teachers are still largely hostile to the whole scheme. As AN example of the evil done by hasty now or later on, if, as is alleged, there is and ill-timed criticism and willful misrepresentation by home papers, take the following from that reputable journal, the Oregonian, by no means given to hasty judgments, as a rule:

It will be remembered that there was an effort to work up a school-book job on the people of Oregon during the recent session of our Legislature. California's experience shows us what a happy escape we made. Since California, with its vastly greater resources and larger market, has made a failure of it, it is not difficult to see what the result here would have been. Now this conclusion is reached by our

Oregon contemporary, upon acceptance as series is a failure, in that the books are "dear at any price," that they are indifferently printed, "miserably bound," "poorly arranged," and altogether inferior to those issued by private publishers. Yet it is a fact that the books are better printed than any used heretofore; are firmly, neatly and thoroughly well bound, and are of nanner. I have recommended it in a great first-class workmanship, and that the textmatter is drawn from the very best standards of literature, the private publishers having no monopoly of the world of letters. As to "arrangement," educators admit that they are modeled after the best known standards, and agree with the most advanced theory and practice of teaching. As to price, they are furnished to the people at about 60 per cent. less than the books formerly in use, and still return to the State every cent of the cost of their com

But, over and above, and rising superior to all these things, the system eliminates from our educational and other politics the book agent with his sack and the publishing houses with their manipulation of Legislatures, School Boards and school elections. The Oregonian has been wholly misinformed and cruelly misled to a judgment that has in fact not a leg to stand apon. It is a part of the scheme of the publishers' syndicate to prevent any other State following the example of California, and hence the persistent falsehoods that are so industriously disseminated. A Statement from State Superintendent Hoitt Upon the Subject. The San Francisco Chronicle of yesterday

We had occasion, some days since, to refer to the report of a committee of the Knights of Labor on the question of the blication of the State series of schoolooks. This report reflected seriously on Ira G. Hoitt, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, charging him with ignorance of the requirements of the schools of the State, and especially with not using his authority to keep the State Printing Office running with a full force in order to sup-

CATARRH, HAY FEVER, ETC .- A. H. DIXON & SON

AT THE GOLDEN EAGLE HOTEL, SACRAMENTO, THURSDAYS. UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.

CATARRH, HAY FEVER, CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Catarrh is a muco-purulent discharge caused by the presence and development of a vegetable parasite in the internal lining membrane of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favorable circumstances, and these are:

Morbid states of the blood, produced by any condition that impairs the general health and reduces the tone of the system, overwork, mental worry, living in damp and malarial districts, the rapid change of temperature from heat to cold, so peculiar to the North American climate, suppressed perspiration and retention of the effete matter of the skin, badly-ventilated sleeping apartments, courses of poisonous drugs, such as mercury or quinine, the germ poison of syphillis, and other poisons that are germinated pungent feetid odor, loss of the rasal bone, ulceration of fauces and throat, destruction of larynx with loss of voice, a usurpation of the bronchial mucous membrane, a filling up of the air vesicles with the germ parasite, but bronchial or pulmonary consumption and death.
The vegetable parasite is the simplest living form known that lives upon organs; structureless, consisting of semi-fluid material; large or small in size, these masses can move in any direction, and propagate indefinitely; these parasites may breed feed and propagate upon s, and other poisons that are germinate n the blood.

These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of hese germs, which spread up the nostrils and lown the fauces or back part of the mouth, causing ulceration of the throat; up the eustablian tubes causing deafness, burrowing in Huxley and Beale.

It is a duty we owe to sufferers from Catarrh to point out to them the position they stand in relative to cholera or other epidemics. It is as follows: The delicate lining membrane of the nostrils (generally the posterior nares) is in a state of inflammation. In parts it is destroyed, and there is present an ulcer (open sore) in which germs are carrying on their destroying process. The cholera microbe or germ of other diseases to which the patient may be exposed, carried in during inspiration, finds this spot exactly suited to its development, and sets to work with great activity to destroy the tissues, poison the blood and to reproduce itself with ever-increasing virulence. This, added to the fact that Catarrh always undermines the causing ulceration of the throat; up the custachian-tubes, causing deafness; burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

A great variety of symptoms are present in this affection, consisting chiefly of languor, lassitude, debility, mal-assimitation, derangement of secretions, great depression of the nervous system, with or without fever; aching; braised or beat feeling all over; shivering; a dull headache in the region of the forehead or sensation of fullness or weight about the root of the nose; loss to a greater or less extent of energy, activity and interest in work and pleasure.

The want of proper excretory functions of the skin and the local presence of the parasite give rise to coryza, tonsilitis, sneezing, a sense of fullness, stuffing of the passages, soreness in swallowing, irritative cough, tightness of chest with ever-increasing virulence. This, the fact that Catarrh always undern health of its victims and diminishes their abil-ity to resist disease, places sufferers from Ca-tarrhal affections at a great disadvantage in the event of a visitation from cholera and other epidemics.

Many attempts have been made to discover a cure for this distressing disease, by the use of inhalents and other ingenious devices (old ex-There may be a discharge quite heavy if the trasite causes great nervous irritation, which romotes secretion. It may be dry if the multi-lication and duplication of the parasite is according to the control of the parasite is according to th loded theories which no intelligent physician rescribes at the present day), but none of these offication and duplication of the parasite is active. The increased pungent odor of ozona is never present until the spores or roots of the term penetrate to the cartilages of the nose, then the parasitical formation makes rapid into the healthy structure of the nose. Catarrh is usually met in three stages: First—A simple parasitical development of the internal lining membrane of the nose, with or without discharge. Second—Where the roots or spores or sporules of the parasites have peneror spores or sporules of the parasites have peneror. rescribes at the present day), but reatments can do a particle of good un-ites are either destroyed or removed from —A simple parasitical development of the internal lining membrane of the nose, with or without discharge. Second—Where the roots or spores or sporules of the parasites have penetrated to the bone or cartilage-ozena. Third—Where the parasite has spread and propagated by millions in the nose, posterior nares, up the eustachian-tubes, down the fauces, vocal cords and bronchi, causing excessive parasitical ulceration and destruction of tissue, the parasite usurying the normal structure.

The mode of propagation is by contagion, or infection, or both—hence its prevalence in families, districts, etc. The parasite develops itself rapidly, so much so, that millions are elaborated in a short space of time. The effect of this formation upon the nervous system is to impair vital force, produce general nervous irritation, a depreciation of the vaso-motor nerves. Cold in itself cannot produce Catarrh, it simply produces an irritation, a field for the propagation applications where the bone is not affected, but where the bone is affected a second or third ex-

The handsome residence was decorated with fioral pieces emblematic of the Order, and the arches draped with the national colors. The members of the G. A. R. Posts and of Fair Oaks Relief Corps turned out in full force, and General Tozer's home was crowded upstairs and down. The number present was so large that standing room was at a premium, and it was with go from one room to another. Mrs. Kinne was tendered a perfect ovation. During the evening viands were served to all and the following musical programme ren-dered: Instrumental solo, Miss Minnie Shore; vocal solo, Charles Eiliott; instru-mental solo, Miss Barrett; vocal solo, Mr. Auerbach: instrumental solo, Miss Gerrish; vocal solo, Mrs. Hansbrow; male quartet, Messrs. The National Opera Company and its baggage came through from the East, en route to San Francisco, yesterday, occupying three special trains. The first, consist ing of four sleepers and two baggage cars eft Sacramento at 2:45 A. M., and arrived at Oakland pier at 5:45 A. M., making the trip in three hours exactly. The second train, consisting of fifteen cars of baggage and a caboose, drawn by two engines, Nos. 96 and 54, left this city at 8:30 A. M., and reached Oakland Point at 11:25. Between Davisville and Suisun the train ran the 27 miles in 27 minutes, which was faster than a train had run such a distance over that division previously. The rapidity of the run caused some trouble with hot boxes, and the remainder of the trip was made at a slower rate. The third train, consisting of five sieepers, three coaches and two box cars loaded with baggage, left Sacramento at 9.05 A. M., and reached Oakland pier at

A FATAL JUMP.-Last Saturday an In dian, whose camp was near Gold Run, and who had been to town to get some chemuck, returned home on a freight train As the train passed near his camp, he con-cluded that it would be better to jump off than to wait until it stopped at the station He accordingly threw off his "baggage," and then jumped, but, being overloaded with firewater, and not being much of a railroad man under any circumstances, hi feet flew from beneath him when he struck the ground, and the back of his head fell with great violence upon the end of a tie, fracturing his skull, and inflicting such injury that he died soon afterwards. A Cor-oner's inquest was held at Gold Run, the verdict being that he alone was to blame.

DR. JOHN BULL'S FOR THE CURE OF

FEVER AND AGUE, Or CHILLS and FEVER,

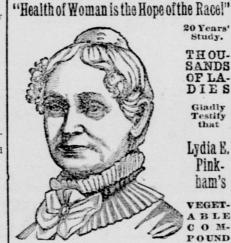

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PHLS will be sufficient. Use no other. AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

MISCELLANEOUS. Blood Poison

My wife, some three or four years ago, was troubled with an ulcer on the side of her tongue near the throat. The pain was incessant, causing loss of sleep and producing great nervous prostration. Accompanying this trouble was rheumatism. It had passed from the shoulders and centered in the wrist of one hand, she almost losing the use of it. Between the suffering of the two life had grown burdensome. By the use of a half dozen small-sized bottles of Swift's Specific she was entirely relieved and restored to health. This was three years ago, and there has been no return of the disease.
